Conservation and Propagation with Plant Growth Regulators: How to rescue damaged & endangered plants

This PowerPoint presentation offers a detailed look at issues of conservation and propagation. It offers hobby and professional growers an easy low-cost method to increase collections with "insurance" plants and/or plants to trade with friends. No sterile laboratory or special equipment is needed.

Suitable to be used as an Orchid Society meeting presentation, an additional manual provides further information to facilitate targeting the special interests of any group. As part of a society or personal library, individuals will also enjoy more detailed examination on their own personal computer.

A great addition to any library, this CD-ROM offers:

- 50 slides with complete text (the notes specifically speak to each picture)
- a more detailed Manual produced in Microsoft Word to expand on each slide
- PowerPoint viewer, useable with any computer running at least Microsoft Windows 98

Now available from Plant Hormones Canada for only $19.95US including postage.
(Air mailed anywhere.)
